Proceedings of Congress

Transactions of Both the Senate and House.

AGREEMENT ON THE BLAIR BILL.

The Senate Will Vote on the Much Discussed Subject Friday at 4 O'clock. Proceedings of the House—Other Washington Dispatches.

WASHINGTON, March 13.—The concurrent resolution for the investigation of immigration matters was laid before the senate yesterday with the two house amendments extending the investigation to the purchase of American industries by foreign capital, and to the use of Bedloe Island in New York harbor as an immigration depot.

Mr. Edmunds said he had received a letter from the secretary of the treasury on the subject of Bedloe Island. The letter was read by the clerk. It stated that the removal of the immigration station from Castle Garden was essential to the good administration of the immigration laws; that Bedloe Island was the best obtainable place for a new depot, and that the secretary would not construe the proposed amendment as an expression of congress that there should be any interruption of the preparations for the change.

Mr. Chandler moved a concurrence in the house amendments and that a conference be asked.

Mr. McPherson opposed the motion and characterized the proposed establishment of an immigration station on Bedloe Island as an unwarrantable proceeding. He said that when the statue of liberty was erected there it was on the pledge, either expressed or implied, that Bedloe Island would never be used for any purpose of a commercial character. He suggested that Ellis Island might be taken as an immigration station.

Mr. Everts said that it was not necessary for him to say that what remonstrances he could make on the subject he had made. He suggested to Mr. Chandler that the easiest way to have the question disposed of would be to concur in the house amendments, and to have the matter promptly inquired into.

Mr. Chandler withdrew the motion, and moved a concurrence in the house amendments. The motion was agreed to, and so the concurrent resolution has passed both houses.

The resolution to exclude from the record the interpolations made by Mr. Call in the report of the discussion with Mr. Chandler was agreed to, yeas 86, nays 14. Four Democrats voted in the affirmative, viz: Messrs. Payne, Fugh, Vance and Cockrell.

The senate then proceeded to the consideration of the resolution reported on the 10th of February, declaring that it is competent for the senate to elect a president pro tem. who shall hold the office during the pleasure of the senate and until another is elected, and shall execute the duties thereof when the vice president is absent.

Mr. George made an argument against the resolution on constitutional grounds, holding up the invariable precedent of the senate in support of his views. The constitution, he said, was to be set aside for a mere matter of convenience. During the course of Mr. George's remarks the hour of 2 o'clock having arrived, the educational bill came up as unfinished business and Mr. Plumb called on Mr. Blair for an indication of the time when a vote on the bill could be taken. No understanding was reached at that time and Mr. George was allowed to conclude his remarks. Then the matter of fixing a day for taking a vote on the educational bill was again taken up and Mr. Blair said that a vote could be reached probably on Thursday or Friday of next week. After some discussion Thursday, March 20, was fixed upon, the general debate to close at 2 o'clock on that day, Mr. Blair to have the floor for not more than one hour following, and debate to continue then under the five-minute rule until a vote is taken. Mr. Plumb, however, gave notice that he would move Monday to take up some other measure and to set aside the Blair bill.

Mr. Plumb moved an amendment to Rule 39, to provide that all votes taken in secret session, whether yeas and nays or otherwise, shall be made public at the close of the session at which they were cast. The motion was referred to the committee on rules.

Consideration of the resolution in regard to the president pro tem. was resumed, and Mr. Turpie moved an amendment, which was accepted by Mr. Everts, making it read that the president pro tem. shall hold office "during all future absences of the vice president."

Mr. Turpie made an argument in favor of the resolution. He was followed by Mr. Everts, who said that the resolution merely declared the competence of the senate to choose a permanent president who should take the chair in the absence of the vice president, and it did not preclude the senate limiting the election to the then absence of the vice president, if it saw fit. The resolution was then agreed to.

The educational bill was then taken up, and Mr. George spoke in support of the bill. He regarded the measure as a generous offer made by the northern states to the southern states. He would not ask alms for the people of Mississippi, but he would not go into the spinning business as the senator of West Virginia (Mr. Faulkner) had done a few weeks ago, when he got on his high horse and proposed to spurn bribes, and all that sort of thing. There was no bribe about it, but he did not feel that he had a right, when he looked at the condition of a large portion of the black people of Mississippi, to reject the offer made. Mr. George said that, while he was not shure in the idea that the colored people of the south would be elevated by education, he was willing to have the opportunity extended to them. He then branched off into a defense of the white people of the south, and a criticism of those who stir up dissensions at the south for political purposes.

Mr. Sears, speaking in support of the bill, said that the measure was dearer to his heart than anything else proposed or discussed before the American people. If he could be assured that the bill would become a law, and that the great consequences would result from it which he expected to result, he would be willing to go out of public life to-morrow and never to be again heard of among his countrymen.

The debate then took a sectional turn, Mr. George arguing that the act for the readmission of Mississippi, Texas and Virginia forbids those states from imposing an educational test on voters.

Finally the discussion came to a close, and after a short executive session the senate at 6 p. m. adjourned.

Proceedings of the House.

WASHINGTON, March 13.—The house passed the senate bill appropriating $6,100 for the removal of sand bars at the entrance of the harbor of Milwaukee, Wis.

Bills were also passed granting the right of way through the Sisseton and Wahpeton Indian reservation in Dakota to the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railway company, and extending the time of payment to purchasers of land from the Omaha Indians in Nebraska.

Mr. Cannon, of Illinois, from the committee on rules, reported a resolution setting aside to-day for the consideration of the Oklahoma bill, the final vote to be taken at 4 o'clock. After a brief discussion of the resolution, during which Mr. Hocker, of Mississippi, said he was opposed to the committee on rules using its autocratic power to bring in special rules applicable to special measures. It was adopted, and the house went into committee of the whole on the Oklahoma bill.

A long discussion followed over the proposed amendments prohibiting the sale of intoxicating liquors in the territory, and a high license amendment, but finally an amendment prohibiting the introduction of intoxicating liquors into the territory, until after the adjournment of the first session of the territorial legislature, was adopted by a vote of 70 to 47.

On motion of Mr. Holman, of Indiana, an amendment was adopted providing that none of the lands embraced in the territory shall inure to the use or benefit of railroad corporations except the right of way heretofore granted.

Pending further discussion the committee rose, and the house at 5:20 p. m. adjourned.

A Pointer for Veterans.

WASHINGTON, March 13.—Many of the thousands of regimental associations of surviving soldiers of the war of the rebellion keep, as nearly as possible, correct rosters of their living comrades, and to that end they revise the lists at each recurring annual meeting of their organizations. The superintendent of the census is very desirous that the officers of these associations should forward to him at once the latest copies of the rosters referred to, which he believes will be efficient aids in the preliminary work of the enumeration, in connection with the eleventh census, of the names, organizations and length of service of surviving soldiers, sailors and marines, and the widows of such as have died.

Wanamaker Going South.

WASHINGTON, March 13.—Postmaster General Wanamaker will leave Washington to-day on his contemplated trip south, accompanied by his wife and daughter, Mrs. Benjamin Harrison, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Harrison and several friends of the president and family. The party will be absent for ten days or two weeks in the south, and on their trip will visit Charleston, Savannah, St. Augustine, Fla., and on their return Atlanta, Ga., and Richmond, Va.

Taulbee's Remains Removed.

WASHINGTON, March 13.—The remains of ex-Representative Taulbee left here last night for Mt. Sterling, Ky., where the inurnment will take place.

The statement that Charles E. Kincaid, who is held for the killing of ex-Representative Taulbee, is in a critical state of body and mind, is emphatically denied. He has suffered a great deal from nervous anxiety since Taulbee's death, but at no time has his condition been at all serious.

Michigan Miners on a Strike.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., March 13.—A special to The Tribune from Ishpeming, Mich., says: Trammers, landers and timber men at the Big Norrie mine on the Gogebic Iron range, struck last night for an increase in wages and the abolition of the dockage charges, made by the mine management. The miners are in sympathy with other strikers at the Ashland mines. All miners are out and the strike will probably spread. There is no immediate fear of violence.

RICHMOND, Ind., March 13.—The Friends of the various monthly meetings comprised in the Indiana yearly meeting are adopting a series of resolutions, in the name of peace and arbitration, remonstrating against the proposed appropriation by congress of $350,000 for building war vessels and for additional coast defenses. At a social held the other evening in honor of the departure of Isom Wooten, one of their ministers, letters were read from Hon. Thomas M. Browne, member of congress, and Elijah Halford, private secretary, and President Harrison, in which they said the remonstrance forwarded from this White Water monthly meeting was being favorably considered.

Refused to Carry a Dead Body.

UPPER SANDUSKY, O., March 13.—The funeral of Miss Emma Hark, who died at Toledo, was to occur at Kirby yesterday. Her remains arrived here at noon, and were to be taken to Kirby on the afternoon train, but the parties in charge failed to secure a permit from the health officer, and the conductor of the train refused to carry the remains.

Well Fed Paupers.

LONDON, March 13.—A discussion about allowing the accounts of the Lewisham Union, near London, has given rise to some comments in the papers and curiosity illustrates one side of English life. Some 6,000 gallons of ale and porter, a little wine and over 1,100 bottles of spirits, largely brandy, were charged as consumed by the inmates. Despite the journals and some of the citizens of Lewisham, it has been impossible to make it appear how much of this spirituous and fermented comfort was absorbed by the paupers, and how much by the board of guardians, whose meetings were suspiciously frequent.

War Declared Against Socialists.

BERLIN, March 13.—The military societies of Saxony, apparently with a common understanding, are making war upon the Socialists with all the bitterness of which they are capable. Within the last few days a number of these Socialists have held special meetings, and by large majorities voted to expel every member known to be in active co-operation or sympathy with the Socialist party. A strong anti-Socialist society has been formed in Berlin.

An Agreement Reached.

LONDON, March 13.—The Standard's Paris correspondent says there is reason to believe that England and France have agreed upon a modus vivendi extending to the right of prosecuting the fishery of canning lobsters, and agreeing that there shall be no interference on the part of either with the other. It is not known whether the French trade in Newfoundland anchovies has been consented to.

"NOT GUILTY."

A Famous Gambling Suit Settled by a Jury.

MONTREAL, March 13.—The jury yesterday afternoon in the case of Harry Phillips, on trial for obtaining by gambling from Von Reinholdt, a traveling salesman for P. W. Ellis & Company, of Toronto, $14,000 worth of jewelry, knowing it not to be the property of Reinholdt, brought in a verdict of "not guilty."

The trial has created unusual interest here, in the United States and Europe, for Phillips is well known in sporting circles, and at one time was the backer of John L. Sullivan on his European trip. The jury found that when Phillips staked his $10,000 against jewelry he believed it to be the property of Reinholdt. Ellis & Company received nearly all of the jewelry from Phillips.

An Insane Woman's Deed.

ROANOKE, Va., March 13.—On Monday evening Miss Nora Wooten went to the residence of Dr. H. A. Sims, a physician of this city, and on his appearance at the door in answer to her summons placed a pistol to his face and fired. The bullet struck the doctor's cheek bone and glanced off without inflicting serious injury. About two weeks ago Miss Wooten was adjudged insane by a commission of lunacy but was not deprived of her liberty.

FORTY DAYS' FASTING.

An Illinois Lady Breaks the Record Without Serious Consequences.

KANKAKEE, Ill., March 13.—The wife of a well known Kankakee county farmer has just concluded a self-imposed fast of forty days, during which not a mouthful of nourishment passed her lips. The motive which incited this remarkable fast had its origin in an abnormal condition of mind, growing out of years of ill-health. Her family are naturally averse to parading the family skeleton, which necessitates considerable reserve in writing of the affair for publication.

There are but few cases on record of an entire abstinence from food for so long a period. Dr. Tanner's is the most prominent and best remembered on account of the publicity given it by himself and the press. In the present case the lady seems to be wholly unaware that she has accomplished a miraculous performance, and even at the end of the forty days she resumed eating only at the earnest solicitation of her family and after prayerful consideration. It is quite probable that she would have deliberately starved herself had she not been impressed with the thought that the Savior fasted forty days.

During the fast she gradually lost strength until she was unable to walk without assistance. Except during the last five or six days, she sat up every day in a rocking chair, conversing with her family and visitors in a rational manner on ordinary subjects. Upon the subject of eating, however, she was obdurate, and any illusion to a breaking of her fast was met with sullen obstinacy. The neighbors prepared and brought in tempting dishes, hoping to induce her to partake, but she was proof against temptation as well as argument.

She has since said that she had no desire for food at any time, with the exception of two or three occasions when the odor of a preparing meal was quite inviting. She drank water frequently in moderate quantities. Her sleep was more or less disturbed at night, being broken by seasons of wakefulness and uneasy tossings.

As the result of taking no food in the stomach, one function of the system was entirely suspended during the fast. Her first meal at the end of forty days was corn meal gruel, taken in small quantity.

Without any special relish or appetite, she continued this diet for a couple of days, adding to it milk and bread, until now she is eating comparatively heavy food and regaining her usual strength. Being naturally spare in flesh, there has not been a very noticeable loss in weight. She refused the attention of a physician while undergoing her fast, but her husband had the family doctor call as a friend to see if there were any alarming symptoms. The case is a remarkable one, and there is no doubt as to its genuineness.

ASSAULTED BY HIGHWAYMEN.

Rough Experience of an Indiana Farmer Supposed to Have Money.

COLUMBUS, Ind., March 13.—Charles Lowe, a prominent and influential farmer, residing near this city, came here at noon yesterday on business. He had sold a large quantity of grain, and was known to have been paid in cash, which he deposited in the First National bank.

On returning to his home at 6 p. m. he was halted by two men who demanded that he throw up his hands. This he refused to do, and showed fight. He was fearfully beaten by the highwaymen, and his screams for help were heard some distance, and attracted the attention of several citizens and two policemen, who appeared on the scene in time to run down and capture William Watson and Samuel Fisher, who were at once identified as the parties. Fisher is a stranger. Watson is from this place, and has just completed a term in the southern prison for car breaking.

The Well Known Chicago Millionaire Dies of Heart Failure.

CHICAGO, March 13.—John T. Lester, the well known board of trade operator, died of heart failure, resulting from paresis, at 10 o'clock Tuesday night, aged 47 years. All of his relatives were gathered around his bedside when he expired, except his son, Charles H. Lester, who is lying ill with pneumonia at Thomasville, Ga., and unable to come home. Mr. Lester was a member of several Chicago and New York clubs, and a director in the Union bank of Chicago, and the Union National of Duluth. His estate is valued at $2,000,000.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., March 13.—Governor Francis has appointed Lon V. Stephens, of Booneville, the well known banker and financier, as state treasurer of Missouri to serve until the second Monday in January, 1893. Governor Francis has not formally accepted the resignation of Treasurer Noland, but filed it in the state department as an accompaniment to the order for Mr. Stephens' appointment.

The Lottery Will Killed.

BISMARCK, N. Dak., March 13.—The lottery bill met its Waterloo in the house last night when Stevens, of Ransom county, moved to reconsider the vote which indefinitely postponed senate bill 167, by which the lottery bill is known. The motion was lost by a vote of 31 to 23. This kills the measure so far as this session is concerned, and probably forever, if some of its ardent supporters are to be believed.

Rumors of an Ocean Accident.

BALTIMORE, Md., March 13.—The Sun's special from Norfolk, Va., says: There is a rumor current in shipping circles here that the United States steamer Alliance, which sailed from Hampton Roads on Saturday for China, has been run into by a sailing vessel, doing considerable damage to the Alliance and injuring several of her crew. There is no confirmation of this report at the navy yard.

THE EVENING BULLETIN

ROSSER & MCCARTHY,
Proprietors.

THURSDAY, MARCH 13, 1890

There are thirty cities in New York and of these only six are now in the control of the Republicans, but one of the six being of the first rank. This is a pretty good showing for the Empire State.

According to a report of State Auditor Norman there are 32 distilleries in this district. During the last two years 241,921 barrels of whisky were with drawn in this district, upon which the State collected taxes amounting to $9,800.29.

A COLORED man was appointed a clerk in the Pension Office at Indianapolis a few days ago, and the white Republican employes threatened to go on a strike if their colored brother should be placed at work among them. So far as heard from, Senators Ingalls, Chandler & Co. haven't said a word about the "outrage."

Candidates for School Superintendent.

Hon. Joseph Desha Pickett, Superintendent of Public Instruction, has given notice that the State Board of Examiners will hold written examinations at the office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction for the examination of candidates for eligibility to the office of County Superintendent of Common Schools on the following dates: Wednesday, April 9, 1890; Wednesday, May 7, 1890; Wednesday, June 11, 1890.

All persons concerned in these examinations, including those now holding certificates, will take due notice of the foregoing appointments.

Every candidate for eligibility to the office of County Superintendent of Common Schools is required by law, to obtain at one of the foregoing examinations, "a certificate of qualification of the grade of a county certificate of the first-class," which requires an average percentage of eighty-five (85), on the subjects of instruction prescribed for the common schools of this Commonwealth, viz: Spelling, reading, writing, arithmetic, English grammar, English composition, geography, United States' history, physiology and hygiene, and the elements of Civil Government.

The County Board of Examiners will hold an examination of said candidates the first Saturday in May, 1890, the date having been changed from the last Saturday in June.

A Suggestion.

Editor Bulletin: If cities of ten thousand population and over are to have public buildings, why is not Maysville entitled to one?

Our receipts from the postoffice and internal revenue certainly justify the expenditure of from fifty to seventy-five thousand dollars at this point.

Suppose we all join the commercial club, and let our literary men devote their time and talent to portraying the advantages of our city, and the energy and ability of our citizens, instead of attacking the men who secured the construction of the C. and O. Railroad, and those who have constructed the handsome buildings in which we all take pride.

Some of the talent expended in abusing the City Council might produce more good if judiciously exercised in suggesting remedies for the evils complained of. Let us expose the good qualities of our officials and citizens, and the evil will become ashamed and cure itself.

Legislative Doings.

The Senate passed the House bill to reduce State taxation to 42 1/2 cents. The bill becomes a law with the assured approval of the Governor.

A bill is pending to punish cruelty to animals. It provides a penalty for overloading, beating or mutilating them. It forbids keeping any animal for the purpose of fighting, baiting or shooting at it as a target. It is made a misdemeanor to work an animal that is sick or crippled. Any Magistrate is authorized to issue warrants for violation of this law.

The Speaker of the House has appointed the following on the committee to redistrict the State into Congressional districts: First district, Representatives Flannery and Nall; Second district, Rudy and Mason; Third district, Cox and Carpenter; Fourth district, Croan and Gardner; Fifth district, Briscoe and Letterle; Sixth district, Hensley and McDonnell; Seventh district, Moore and Settle; Eighth district, W. B. Smith and Warren; Ninth district, Womack and Blackerby; Tenth district, Redwine and Langley; Eleventh district, Bale and Hindman. Mr. Blackerby is the Representative from Bracken and Mr. Womack is from Greenup.

OUR NEIGHBORS.

GERMANTOWN.

Judge Dora was bustling through the ranks of voters in Bracken this week.

Mrs. George Taylor and her accomplished daughter, Miss Sue, of Broo-sville, spent Sunday here with friends.

Rev. George Pogue, of Brooksville, filled the pulpit at the M. E. Church, South, Sunday, morning and night.

Rev. Wright, assisted by Rev. Crow, of Louisville, began a protracted meeting at the M. E. Church, South, Monday night.

Judge John T. Wilson is favorably spoken of here as a delegate to the Constitutional Convention; as also is Judge Whitaker.

Jefferson D. Bradley and family, formerly of Salem, have moved to town, and are now occupying the former residence of A. P. Sillies.

James Porter was in Cincinnati last week. He intended going to Illinois, but Germantown has charms for him that called him back.

Several ice houses were filled with the coveted fluid last week. It averaged three inches in thickness, and was of a very pretty quality.

Charley McMath, Will Varian, Cincinnati commercial tourists, and A. D. Paupelly, of Augusta, were registered at the Winter's Hotel Saturday.

Miss McCracken has opened her millinery store to the public. In fact, she is now offering party will open one in the near future, making three, and will give no one an excuse to go away from home to be "hatted."

SHANNON.

All the two-inch ice in our neighborhood was melted by H. D. Watson, A. J. Styles and Mrs. M. A. Browning Saturday, March 8.

Dr. W. H. Anderson, Jr., of Sardis, during the prevalence of la grippe, has worked himself into a fine practice. Good address and professional skill will tell in time.

A rumor has reached this point that H. W. Jefferson, who lately removed to Lexington on Mt. Olive, has lost a horse and his pocket-book with one hundred and fifty dollars. Mistakenly could not have overtaken a clearer fellow.

County court day (3rd Monday in March) in Mt. Olive promises to be a lively day in the live stock and traffic. The new hotel men, Anderson & Trigg, "Louisiana Hotel" will lead man and beast with the best afforded by the Maysville and Olive markets. Their friends intend to boom the new hotel that day.

"The Oaks" (Dr. Browning's) has been unusually gay this spring. Miss Mollie McKrell, of Ripleyland and Miss Lida Burgess, of Maysville, together with the young ladies, Miss Kim Lee, have kept everything flying (Mrs. B. says "we are all of the same age at our house.") The young gentlemen of the neighborhood have been so gallant and attentive.

Mrs. Amanda Watson and Mrs. Mary W. Ridgely came up from Mt. Olive last week, having in charge the sweet little 3-month old babe of Mrs. F. P. Bland, which they consigned to Mrs. John Kirk, his aunt, for raising. It bears the name of May Ridgely Bland. Its mother is in a very precarious condition.

HELENA.

Dr. Frank Eckman, who lately graduated at Cincinnati, will locate in Mt. Carmel.

Our post office changed hands yesterday. R. M. Harrison to A. Rummans. If the latter will keep the office in as first-class order as our late postmaster, our people will be satisfied with the change.

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Hixon, near this place, entertained several of their friends at their tenth marriage anniversary the 8th inst.

Mrs. Wm. Goodman, of Mt. Gilead, has been the pleasant guest of Mrs. Ora Robertson the past week.

Thomas Best, our long-traveling tobacco merchant in Cincinnati.

A Burning Question.

I am curious to know what it is that makes a painting by one artist worth $10,000, and a painting by another, though equally good, perhaps even better, worth but $10. I saw some pictures recently by a painter who can just keep his head above water, which are as well painted as are the canvases of many artists who are on the topmost wave of popularity. Perhaps you will say they lack the sacred fire. On the contrary, they possess it to a greater degree than some of their more fortunate fellow craftsmen. And yet they will lie in unknown graves while the others have lofty monuments reared above their heads. I wonder what makes the difference. Sometimes I think it is enterprise, industry and tact—merely commercial qualities, that have nothing to do with the intrinsic merit of a work of art.—The Critic.

Some Curious Chinese Slang.

Some of the ordinary expressions of the Chinese are very sarcastic and characteristic. A blustering, harmless fellow they call a "paper tiger." When a man values himself overmuch they compare him to "a rat falling into a scale and weighing itself." Overdoing a thing they call "a hunchback making a bow." A spendthrift they compare to a rocket which goes off at once. Those who expend their charity on remote objects, but neglect their family, are said "to hang a lantern on a rope, which is seen afar but gives no light below."—Boston Herald.

Mastodon Remains in Alaska.

"There are so many strange things in Alaska," said the discoverer of the Muir glacier, "that have not come to the knowledge of the public that one who has seen them hesitates where to begin. Elephant remains are found all over the great valley of the Yukon. As a matter of fact, they are found everywhere throughout the great western slope of Alaska. Dana and Sir Charles Lyell started the world by announcing that hairy frozen elephants were found wedged among the Siberian icebergs, but scarcely anybody knows that throughout Alaska are the remains of countless thousands of mastodons.

"You can dig them out and find them on the surface everywhere. So thick are the elephant remains that the native Indians, on finding them buried partially in the ground, decided they were some kind of great mole that burrows in the soil. The collecting of elephant tusks every summer is a regular business in Siberia, just over Behring Sea. There are just as many of them on the Alaska side as there ever was in Siberia. Ages ago great herds of elephants roamed over these shores. Perhaps they existed down to a comparatively recent date, too, for the hairy bodies and well preserved bones were evidences of that."—New York Telegram.

CHOKED TO DEATH.

T. J. Reigart Strangles on a Piece of Beef Steak and Expires in a Few Minutes.

The Deceased a Special Pension Examiner—The Remains Are in Charge of the Knights Templar.

Choked to death on a piece of beef steak.

Such was the singular and sudden fate that last night overtook T. J. Reigart, a Special Pension Examiner who had been making his headquarters in this city for some time.

The deceased came to Maysville about six months ago, and soon won many warm friends by his genial disposition and affable manners, among them Messrs. A. A. Wadsworth, Horatio Ficklin and J. Ballenger.

He invited these gentlemen to lunch with him last evening, at his rooms in the building that Miss Ann McKay has charge of on the north side of Third street, between Market and Court. It was a little late—about 9:30 o'clock—when the party sat down at the spread that had been prepared for them.

Mr. Reigart had taken but a few mouthfuls when he was suddenly seized with a fit of severe coughing. He rose from his seat and stepped to the washstand. His friends went to his assistance, thinking he had been suddenly taken sick. They saw then that he was strangling. One of them, Mr. Ficklin, began pounding him on the back to assist him in relieving himself of the obstruction, while Mr. Ballenger ran for a physician. In response to the question whether the beating gave him any relief, the unfortunate man nodded his head, and Mr. Ficklin renewed his efforts, but in vain. The obstruction had become firmly lodged. The coughing was accompanied by a wheezing noise. Presently, the strangling man, in his awful struggles, threw his head back, and turning his eyes full of despair and of appeal to his friends, sank slowly to the floor.

Mr. Ballenger went for Dr. Strode. When Reigart sank to the floor, Mr. Wadsworth hurried across the street and succeeded in finding Dr. Owens, who hastened to the scene. He arrived too late, as the unfortunate man's struggles had ceased, and life was extinct.

The death summons had been a sudden one. The man who but a few minutes before was full of life, and was laughing and joking in his jovial manner with his companions, now lay there before them a corpse. "It all happened in about three minutes—not longer than five," said Mr. Ficklin.

Squire Vicroy was summoned and held an inquest, the verdict being that death had resulted from strangulation. At the postmortem held by Drs. Owens and Strode, the throat was opened, and a piece of steak weighing about one ounce was found firmly lodged in the windpipe.

The remains were afterwards removed to Myall & Shackelford's undertaking establishment where they were prepared for burial. The deceased was about forty-five or fifty years old, and leaves a wife and two or three children, who reside at 1734 Main street, N. W., Washington City. His oldest son holds a Government position in one of the departments at the capital. The family formerly lived at Des Moines, Iowa. The deceased had been in the Pension service several years as Special Examiner. He was a Knight Templar, a member of the Commandery at Des Moines. Maysville Commandery has taken charge of the remains.

The United States exported over 329,000 cattle last year. In 1875 the exports were only about 400.

A prominent citizen of this county says: "Hambledonian, the great sire, was imported from England by an officer of the United States Navy, and presented to Major James Byers, who owned and lived upon the farm now the home of Col. W. W. Baldwin. Major Byers refused to sell Hambledonian at any price. Major Byers made several seasons with him in the stud, at Washington, where he died. Among a number of colts by this stallion out of Virginia bred mares, were several whose dams were by imported Messenger. These were purchased by a party of gentlemen from Baltimore. Porcupine, the name of one of the young stallions, a red sorrel, the facsimile of his sire, was taken to Vermont, his name being changed, however, to that of the old horse, Hambledonian."

Railway News.

The C. and O. railroad has within the past month received ten sixty-five-ton, consolidated freight engines for mountain service.

Says the Bourbon News: "Sixty-four trains passed through here Friday and Saturday. Many of them were from the C. and O., which had to go through here on account of several washouts."

The Ohio and Northwestern will be sold to-day at auction. The Enquirer says: "It is understood there will be several bidders, among them the Norfolk and Western interest, the Chattahoochee (C. P. Huntington), Ohio River Railroad (Senator Camden), and a Chicago syndicate. If either of the two first gets the plum the Ohio and Northwestern will become a part of a considerable system of roads, via a bridge to be built across the Ohio river at Ashland."

All Lotteries to be Suppressed.

The Legislative correspondent of the Louisville Times says the Lottery Committee is preparing a general lottery bill which will be a corker. It will prohibit any kind of lottery under the heaviest penalties. A fine and imprisonment will be the penalty for operating a lottery, and a fine of $50 will be imposed on any one convicted of buying a lottery ticket. Newspapers will be forbidden, under proper penalties, to publish the advertisement of any lottery. Newspaper drawings, except in distinct form of giving premiums, will be classed as lotteries and prohibited. In short, the bill will aim at the utter extinction of the lottery evil. It will not be a half-way measure.

Special Bulletin from the Signal Office.

HEAVY RAINFALL REPORTED.

Great Fears of an Overflow in the Ohio and Lower Mississippi—Warnings Sent to the People Along the Arkansas Levees to Prepare for the Worst.

WASHINGTON, March 13.—The signal office last night furnished the following special river bulletin:

The stage of the river at Cairo, Ill., is forty-eight and eight-tenths feet. The water has risen half a foot in the past twenty-four hours, and one foot in the last four days. The conditions are favorable for a further rise. Within the next five days the river will approximate the highest known water, fifty-two and two-tenths feet.

At Cincinnati, in the twenty-four hours past, there has been a rise of seven feet; at St. Louis one foot. There has been a fall of eight feet at Chattanooga and one foot at Nashville.

The rainfall in the past four days has been three inches at Louisville and Fort Smith, two inches and four-tenths at Indianapolis and Cairo, about one inch and five-tenths at Little Rock, Memphis, Vicksburg, Shreveport, Cincinnati and Columbus, O., one inch no tenths at St. Louis and Nashville.

The quantity of rain that has fallen in the drainage area of the Ohio river in the past four days is estimated to be four and a half cubic miles. Three cubic miles of this has fallen in the area below Cincinnati, Chattanooga and Nashville.

At Vicksburg, the stage of the river is forty-seven feet and four-tenths. It has risen four-tenths of a foot in the past twenty-four hours. It will probably rise to forty-nine feet. There has been an extensive break in the main levee at Alsatia, thirty-nine miles above Vicksburg on the west bank of the river.

The Arkansas at Little Rock has risen six and a half feet in the past twenty-four hours. The rainfall in the Vicksburg drainage below Cairo in the past four days has been two cubic miles. The present prospects are that the stage of the river from Cairo to Vicksburg and below will be one of the highest known. Without desiring to create general alarm in the valley of the lower Mississippi, it would seem that the coming stage of water warrants the advisability of timely removal of stock and such other property as would be destroyed by an extreme flood.

Owing to the lack of a larger number of rainfall stations from which to accurately deduce the entire amount of rainfall, the signal office is unable to give more definite information as to the extreme height to be reached or the date on which it will occur.

The Flood in Kentucky.

OWENSBORO, Ky., March 13.—The rainfall Monday night was the heaviest for years. The Patoka rose ten feet in a few hours, inundating a tract of country twenty miles long by three to six miles wide, to the depth of three or four feet. The Air line track is covered with water for miles between Huntingburg and Ferdinand, and washouts are feared.

The Levees Must Break.

GREENVILLE, Miss., March 13.—The river continues to rise. Chief Engineer Young says the Arkansas levees must break and he requests the newspapers to announce that he warns everybody in the adjacent bottoms to look out for their lives and property accordingly.

Rivers Booming at Jeffersonville, Ind. JEFFERSONVILLE, Ind., March 13.—There has been fifty hours of hard, continuous rain in this vicinity, and every watercourse is booming. Had it come ten days sooner, before snow melted, an unprecedented flood would have followed.

THE WILL TO BE CONTESTED.

Valuable Church Property at New Albany, Indiana, Has Two Claimants.

NEW ALBANY, Ind., March 13.—Father Louis Neyron, a pioneer of the Catholic church in southern Indiana, died at South Bend, two years ago, aged 90. He left a will bequeathing the bulk of his property to the Holy Trinity Catholic church of this city. Since then a will of more recent date, unsigned by witnesses, has been found among the effects of the deceased, in which his property is given to a sister in France, and inquiries are being pressed by the French consul at Chicago, looking to contesting the right of the New Albany church thereto.

Father Neyron was a surgeon in the old French National guard, but after the fall of Napoleon entered the priesthood. At the battle of Waterloo he was decorated with the cross Legion of Honor, and the French government awarded him a pension of $500 per year. During his priesthood he established many churches in southern Indiana, and at one time he loaned the Holy Trinity church $5,000, and afterward released the mortgage given him as security on condition that the congregation pay him $500 annually.

Suing a Railroad.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., March 13.—The first suit for damages on account of the Carmel accident, was filed against the Monon railway yesterday by Laern and Bailey, attorneys. The plaintiff is Charles G. Wirt, who demands $10,000 damages for personal injuries, charging bad management and rotten ties.

THE LOST FOUND.

Roland Leach's Dead Body Fished Out of the Chicago River.

CHICAGO, March 13.—The body of Roland Leach, the missing New York traveling man, was found about 2 p. m. yesterday underneath a scow in the river at the foot of Market street, by officers who were searching the river. The face was discolored and there was a black and blue spot beneath each eye. His gold ring was on his finger.

The body after being taken ashore was searched. In the pockets were found a check for Room 62 Palmer house, his gold watch and chain, a pocketbook in which was a 1,000 mile ticket, a match safe, a bunch of small bags and a certificate of accident insurance.

The body was in good condition, and was identified by James Casey, the tug man, as the man he met the night of Leach's disappearance, and for whom he ordered a cab. The body was taken to Klanke's morgue.

When the body was first discovered a discoloration was noticed on the head, which was thought to have been made by a blunt instrument. On examination, however, it was found to be a birth mark. The police authorities are of the opinion that Leach walked into the river while intoxicated and was drowned. An inquest will be held.
